

PRESERVATION OF FREEDOM OF THE INDIVIDUAL AND SOLVENCY OF U. S. IS THE PARAMOUNT ELECTION ISSUE

Governor Edward Martin Addresses Meeting of Republican State Committee at Pittsburgh—"A People Cannot Be Free Unless Their Government is Sound Financially," Says Speaker.

Following is the text of the keynote speech of Governor Edward Martin, candidate for U. S. Senate, delivered Saturday at Pittsburgh opening the Fall campaign of the Republican Party:

We are here to launch the Republican Campaign of 1946. Our platform has been adopted. Our candidates have been nominated. They are outstanding men and women. Everyone on our ticket deserves the full support of every American believing in our way of life.

We are ready for the opening gun. Will that "shot" be heard around the world? It may, because this campaign has momentous issues. They not only affect the future of Pennsylvania and this Nation but the races of the earth who are groping for peace, justice and leadership.

You have all been my very close friends and I intend to speak very frankly because I am concerned about our country.

The paramount issue in this election is the preservation of the freedom of the individual and the solvency of our country. An insolvent government will die. A people cannot be free unless their government is sound financially.

A government can only be solvent when it spends less money than it receives in taxes. Continued deficit financing can only lead to confusion, chaos and destruction.

The State issues have been plainly stated. Our opponents have provided us with a horrible example still vivid in our memories of four years of misrule, extravagance and scandal. We never want to see its return.

The world is at the crossroads. The coming election will help decide which way it is to turn.

Communism has risen like a tide. Its doctrines have engulfed all major portions of the world save the United States.

Even Great Britain has been affected. Today, the Gibraltar of individual liberty is America. If there is to be peace, freedom and good will in the world, it is upon that rock they must be built.

But the waves of collectivism rise high on our own shores. Communism even dares to lure its ugly head. Its disciples hold the reins of vast political organizations. They have seized power over large associations of free Americans. From high public positions they do their work, financed by the taxes of those they would enslave.

In all this wide Nation, the sole effective guardian of this Gibraltar of American liberty is the Republican Party.

For a thousand generations mankind groped for liberty, but it remained for Americans to find, in our Constitution, the touchstone of Freedom.

Under these principles, in 150 years, we sprang from a wilderness to world leadership. We rescued the world from slavery. Our people enjoyed comforts, security and opportunities never equaled by any other race.

Yet now many have lost faith in our greatness!

Shall we gamble with destiny? Shall we join in the surrender of individual dignity and freedom which already has brought disaster to so many free peoples? Or shall we

Members and guests of Quakertown Rotary Club on Wednesday evening heard Dr. Louise J. Lee, a native of China, a physician and educator, of Lansdale.

Dr. Lee was graduated from Peking Union Medical College, China, in 1929, and took post graduate work at Jefferson Medical College and Women's Hospital, Philadelphia, in 1932. Thirteen years ago she became a teacher of obstetrics and gynecology in China and taught at the "Yale in China" University for ten years. During the war she founded two maternity hospitals in China and returned to America in 1945.

A number of the wives of the Quakertown Rotarians attended the meeting to hear Dr. Lee's account of the attitude of the Chinese people toward democracy, which they

What Molotov Forgot

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTINGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

"Fascism is a matter of taste" Molotov shrugged when Mussolini was building guns. It is this same Molotov and his chocolate soldier, Tito, who now demand that Italy be stripped to rags.

When Matteotti and other Italian patriots were being butchered, the present purists in Moscow were winning and dining the fascist consuls in Russia and giving them prestige. When Mussolini attacked Ethiopia, it was not the present leaders of Italy who supported that brutal venture. No, it was Molotov's government which supplied Il Duce with oil and wheat.

When Mussolini stabbed France in the back in 1940—one year before Hitler stabbed Russia—was there any faint word of protest from Moscow? No, it was then that Stalin gave Hitler a free hand and supplies. It was then that Molotov's master gave Japan's militarists the go-signal.

It was then that this Molotov person said (October 31, 1939), "It is not only senseless but criminal to wage a war for the 'destruction of Hitlerism' camouflaged as a fight

Miss M. DiGirolamo Is Wed to A. Pietrangelo

A nuptial mass yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Ann's R. C. Church united Miss Mary DiGirolamo, daughter of Mrs. Domenica DiGirolamo, 909 Mansion street, and Mr. Anthony Pietrangelo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mariano Pietrangelo, 907 Mansion street. The Rev. Fr. Thomas Pinci officiated, with Mr. Peter DiGirolamo, Mansion street, brother of the bride, giving her in marriage.

Attending the bride were her cousin, Miss Susan Iannone, Philadelphia, as bridesmaid; Miss Lucy Margari, Lafayette street, bridesmaid; Miss Marie Tamborello, Beaver street, niece of the groom, as junior bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Samuel Lumio, Morrisville; and usher, Mr. Jasper DiGirolamo, brother of the bride.

As she made her way up the aisle the bride was attired in white tulle gown, train, with trim of French lace. An orange blossom wreath held a finger-tip veil of net. She carried a white prayer book on which rested two lavender orchids with shower of small flowers; this being replaced by a gardenia bouquet for the recessional.

The three attendants wore gowns of poudre blue tulle with floor-length, flared skirts. Wreaths of red roses were worn on their hair, and each carried an arm bouquet of red roses. Slippers were of silver tone.

Covers were arranged for 89 at a dinner at the Keystone Hotel at four o'clock, a number of guests being received also in the evening at the DiGirolamo home.

The bride and groom are honeymooning at Washington, D. C. The traveling costume of the bride included a black and white dress, black coat and accessories, and she wore a lavender orchid corsage. The couple will make their home at 911 Beaver street.

Mr. Smith had previously served at schools in New Hope and Langhorne, and for one year taught at West Chester high school.

Yardley schools opened today.

MISS STALLONE AND N. ANGELLELLA WED

Nuptial Mass Occurs in St. Ann's R. C. Church Sunday Morning

FIVE ATTEND BRIDE

A resident of Beaver street became the bride yesterday morning of a young Dorrance street man, at a ceremony solemnized in St. Ann's R. C. Church at the hour of 11. The bride, Miss Angellella Stallone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stallone, 913 Beaver street, was given in marriage by her father, she becoming the wife of Mr. Nicholas C. Angellella, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angellella, 408 Dorrance street.

Selections were provided by St. Ann's church choir, with Miss Frances Tamborello as organist.

The bridal gown of white satin, and a sheer yoke and long, tapered sleeves. Wide French lace provided in off-the-shoulder effect, and was also used as a decorative motif at the edge of the long, full-cut train. French lace edged the tiered section of her skirt, with small satin bows used as trim at points where the tier was draped. Satin slippers, and an orange blossom headpiece with long veil of net completed her costume. The bride carried a white prayer book which supported two avander orchids.

A quintet of young women attended the former Miss Stallone, these being inclusive of the Misses Theresa Brescia, Beaver street, Theresa Cimino and Anna Seneca, Washington street, bridesmaids; the Misses Josephine Stallone, sister of the bride, and Rita Angellella, sister of the groom, who were junior bridesmaids.

The attendants were attired in autumn colors of gold and lime green. The bridesmaids wore the green costumes, and the junior bridesmaids, golden toned ones.

The tulle gowns had heart-shaped necklines appearing below the net yokes, three-quarter sleeves; and the hem-lines of the full skirts were each caught by bows in two places at the front to reveal the ruffled gold net underskirts. Skirts were Continued on Page Two

BOY, 17, NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH IN UNTANGLING KITE

Anthony Carmasino, Wilson Ave., is Burned and Bruised in Accident

FELL FROM A BOX CAR

Was Trying to Do Kindness For Lad Cryst On Sidewalk

A 17-year-old lad eager to do a kindness for a little fellow whose kite had become entangled in some wires, narrowly escaped electrocution Saturday afternoon. There were 33,000 volts in the wire at the time, it is said. It is the line supplying current to the electric locomotives operating on the "low line."

Anthony Carmasino, 17, of 2107 Wilson avenue, is fortunate that he is living today. He tells a story which is amazing and his body burned and battered is partly evidence of what he passed through.

Lying in bed at his home today Carmasino tells this story:

He says that he and his cousin, Albert Pezullo, Philadelphia, were walking along Trenton avenue, near the P. R. R. scales Saturday afternoon. "I saw a little fellow standing there crying and looking up into the air. I looked up and saw a kite tangled around a wire above a P. R. R. box car on the siding. I picked up a long piece of tin which I found laying on the ground, climbed up on a box car and just touched the kite."

Then Carmasino says he does not remember just what followed immediately. He found himself lying on the ground and someone unbuttoning his shirt. "I told him to take my belt off and shoes off."

"Then the ambulance came."

Carmasino was rushed by Bucks Co. Rescue Squad to St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, N. J., from which institution he was discharged yesterday.

Carmasino is employed in the picker house of Leedom's Carpet Mill.

Carmasino was not only burned but he was bruised by the fall from the top of a box car about 10 feet above the ground.

The soles of both his feet were burned through his shoes. His hand was burned. He has injuries of the face, arm and head due to the fall.

It was found later that the kite belonged to George Shire, 8, of 337 Monroe street.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

Has anybody thought of blaming Hoover for the stock market ... or are we still saying him for '43?

Anyway we have more important things on our mind ... Do you realize that today we haven't got a port to ship in?

It means that thousands of tons of goods won't get to Tito to keep him well and strong enough to keep beating us.

The Greek situation has cleaned up a little. I hear they will permit sky-writing if we will allow them to spell out "Xantippes" over New York.

Arrangements are hanging in the balance while negotiations go forward for lend-lease of the X in I. J. Fox.

We often wondered what happened to the fellow who gave us the bread-slicing ban as a war measure ... It appears now that he's in the navy teaching sky-writing.

But the Democrats have gotten an idea out of this ... Look for smoke signals in the sky on Election Day.

CLEVELAND'S JAIL CLINIC

Cleveland has inaugurated a program under which all drunks and vagrants arrested in the Ohio city are to be examined physically immediately in the new city jail clinic. It was established because too many arrested persons had died in jail who should have been treated in hospitals.

It is believed that the new program will also safeguard public health because communicable diseases afflicting persons arrested will be discovered. A physician will be on hand in the jail clinic and will decide at once whether a man is drunk or is a victim of disease or suffered an injury. His staff will include a nurse and an X-ray technician.

It is well known that a person untrained in medical science cannot detect upon mere observation whether a person who is unconscious or semi-conscious is the victim of alcohol or is sick or suffering from a serious injury.

The plan benefits the police because they no longer need to be in doubt about such a matter. It is well known that when a person arrested for being drunk dies in a police cell, the public is inclined to blame the police for not having been more diligent in ascertaining the facts.

That the plan will safeguard public health is obvious. A person suffering from active tuberculosis, for instance, can give the disease to many other persons. Since many down-and-outers do not get sufficient food, they are especially vulnerable to tuberculosis and other diseases.

The Cleveland plan is not applicable to all communities, because of the cost, but it should be in effect in every city of 50,000 or more population.

JOHN STEWART CURRY

The death of John Stewart Curry at the age of 48 is a tragic loss to American art. His work, like those of most other leading painters of his time, has been alternately hailed and assailed by a public and by critics sharply divided over what is good and what is bad or mediocre art. But there is no denying his imagination and the sharp impact that he had on American painting of his generation.

Mr. Curry was one of a trio of Middle Western artists, including Thomas Hart Benton and the late Grant Wood, who led the revival of painting of the American scene. In common with most other artists of his time he went to Paris to study with the masters of modern art congregated there. But he was uncertain and unhappy abroad and it was not until he returned to his native Kansas in 1931 that he found himself and began turning out the canvases and water colors which brought him fame.

These paintings were realistic but it was realism of a harsh and violent sort rather than the romantic pastoral quality that marked much of American painting in the past. In such paintings as "Baptism in Kansas," "Tornado," and his John Brown he portrayed people, the soil, and the forces of nature with a stern beauty mingled with a bursting vitality and power.

Daniel McPadden has been added to the police force of the borough.

Wildman's carriage shops at Oxford Valley were burned last Friday.

The commencement exercises of Bristol high school will be held in the Baptist Church on Friday evening, June 30th.

Tuesday was the hottest day of the season. In some parts of the borough the mercury rose to over 100 degrees in the shade.

Several workmen on Landreth's seed farm, Bloomsdale, were overcome by the heat on Tuesday.

The board of school directors of Morrisville, at a special meeting held on Saturday evening, decided to purchase the property of Mrs. Young for a site for the new school house. As they have now decided on the site the house will be built this year, so that the school will soon have accommodations for the children. The borough has grown so in the last year or so that the present school rooms would not accommodate the children, and it is the intention of the directors to build in view of increasing population.

for "democracy." It was then that Congressman Marcantonio was voting against all appropriations for the defense of America.

Yet, it is this same Molotov, this pure angel of peace from the Red paradise, who now lectures the western world on ethics, morals, and manners as he demands his pound of flesh from beaten foes—beaten, not by the Red Army but by England and the United States, aided by the forces of resistance on the inside who risked their lives or spent years in jail in exile while Stalin and Molotov gave aid and comfort to those ravaging their liberty.

As the secret record unfolds, our people will read with increasing amazement how President Roosevelt was "taken in" by "Marshal Stalin" of the "peace-loving democracy" of the Kremlin, how he helped build up the treacherous masters of the great Russian people to a position where they can threaten the peace of five continents.

For, Roosevelt once denounced Russia as a dictatorship as absolute as any in the world. That was in 1939, when Stalin attacked Finland, and "Finland forever" was popular in these States. It was not long after, however, that Roosevelt dismissed Finland's minister in Washington for resisting Stalin with the help of Hitler, and England declared war on Finland.

Principles may be heavy burdens when armies march and ships are stripped for action. But American ideals and prestige throughout the world were tossed overboard at a heavy price.

Even Karl Marx, the planter of the weed now come to crimson bloom, warned that "Pan-slavery is not a movement which merely strives after national independence; it is a movement which, acting on Europe, would undo what a thousand years of history have created."

Pan-slavery is now, from a creed, turned into a political program, or rather a vast political menace.

It is too bad that American young men, with their life blood, must pay tuition for the education of statesmen. But so it is! We abandoned the shrewd insight of Washington and Jefferson and plunged blindly into age-old European rivalries for power. In a jolly, big-hearted manner, when vodka flowed like beer, our leaders offered Uncle Sam's legs to be pulled. But now that we survive the cemeteries in the cold gray light of the morning after, we may recall Kipling's lines: "Over and over the story, ending as he began, 'Put ye no faith in Adam-Zad, the Bear who walks like a Man!'" nation finally achieved in 1911 with the leadership of Dr. Sun Yat Sen. She said, however, the new Chinese republic could not be compared with the American republic at the time of its origin, because in America the people could read and were able to understand the principles of democracy, whereas in China the vast millions were ignorant, and had been kept in ignorance by the rulers of the various dynasties in order that they might maintain their power.

SAMUEL E. PETTENGILL.

China, Dr. Lee said, is divided into many tribes or subdivisions, of which the leading ones are Manchuria, Mongolia, Chinese Turkestan and Tibet. China, she said, does not have a caste system like India, but the people are divided into five groups according to their occupation as follows: Scholars, farmers, laborers or coolies, merchants and soldiers.

Dr. Lee declared that China is the oldest country that still exists as it did 3,000 years ago, and modern civilization did not enter there until about 80 years ago.

Fifty-one persons attended the business meeting of the Friendship Thimble Social at the home of Mrs. Horace Overholt, Doylestown, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Overholt was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Clarence Rosenberger.

The meeting, which was in charge of the president, Mrs. A. C. LaRue, was featured by the election of one new member and the presentation of routine reports.

Opening ceremonies included singing, prayer by Mrs. LaRue, a reading from the booklet, "The Upper Room," by Mrs. Harvey Davies and the reading of an original poem by Mrs. Albert E. Spratt.

bonfant type, and the gowns buttoned down the backs to points below the waist-lines. The bridesmaids wore silver slippers, and the junior bridesmaids wore gold slippers. Tiaras of beads matched their individual gowns; and all carried yellow roses with ribbon bows contrasting with the colors of their costumes.

Mr. John Quattrochi was best man for Mr. Angellella; with ushers including Messrs. Louis Angellella, Jr., and Anthony Marino, Dorchester street, brother and cousin of the groom, respectively.

With 200 served, a dinner and reception took place at Roman Hall, Trenton, N. J. the newlyweds then leaving for Florida. The bride's travelling costume consisted of a two-piece gray wool suit, the coat being a belted model with button trim; pink blouse, black hat with pink feathers, black slippers, white gloves, and the orchids which she carried at her wedding ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Angellella will reside with the bride's parents.

Gifts of the bride to her bridesmaids were gold bracelets; and to the junior bridesmaids, single strand pearl necklaces. Mr. Angellella gave his best man and ushers gifts of wallets.

The mothers of the bride and groom were attired for the ceremony in black dresses, black accessories, and wore gardenia corsages.

WHEN you buy fire insurance keep these two things in mind — the home you have and the equally good home you'll want if you are burned out. Obviously, the amount of your fire insurance should approximate the present high value of the home you own because this also is approximately the value of an equally good home you will want to buy after a fire.

A preview of wools for the coming turn of the season shows much to do about gray flannel which this year gets out of the strict coat and skirt starkness, and into dandy softer suits. There are lots of Eisenhower battle jacket sleeves, which look soft and not military; gilt and silver braid and buttons, ditto; Regency flares, lapels and pockets.

Another wool fashion which comes up fresh is that of the all-wool coat, full length, which is not fur-trimmed. The model photographed here, although it shows the leopard's spots, is typical. (This coat would be handsome without the fur.) The point of fashion is that one can wear fur neckpieces with coats not already fur bearing, or the new wool shawls that look mighty smart.

You Can Have This Suede cloth winter coat in wine, black, brown or green . . . with leopard or Persian lamb trim. Full bishop sleeves.

Power Plant Work May Be Delayed At Perkaskie

PERKASKIE, Sept. 9—Superintendent William E. Fox, of the Perkaskie municipal electric plant, suggested to Perkaskie Borough Council, at its recent meeting, that it contact the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company on purchasing larger quantities of power until construction costs have reached a more normal level. The cost of expanding the electric power system is reaching such proportions, he told the group, that final costs will exceed previous estimates.

If council follows Fox's suggestion the major expansion program of the power plant will be postponed. The zoning ordinance was discussed and a committee of ten will be formed to study the problem. The remodeling of buildings, such as garages, into homes, has presented many problems concerning the zoning ordinance. The law is not specific as to who can build and who cannot, some of the members reported. The committee, formed of five council members and five other citizens, will present a detailed report on the zoning question.

Paul Mood, Democrat of the Second Ward, was unanimously elected to succeed Melvin Freed, Republican, who resigned from the council recently in a dispute over the power plant expansion program. Mood was Freed's opponent in the 1943 election. There are now six Democrats and three Republicans on council.

Fox also presented a plan to the electric committee for the Christmas holiday decorations. The Chamber of Commerce had already submitted a plan and the two will be studied by the committee.

Flood water conditions in the Third Ward were discussed and some measures will be taken to ease conditions at Main and Walnut streets.

The earnings of the electric light plant for August were $794.

APPOINT SMYTHE RED CROSS CHAPTER MGR.

Transferred from New York Chapter to Southeastern Pennsylvania

SUCCEEDS SCHAFER

Robert J. Smythe, Assistant Executive Director, New York Chapter, American Red Cross, has been appointed Manager of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter. It was announced today by Benjamin Rush, Jr., local chairman. Formerly he was Assistant Manager in charge of Fund Raising and Public Information for the North Atlantic Area.

He succeeds A. L. Schaffer, who has been appointed Director of the Convention Office at the organization's national headquarters, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Smythe, who is 42, received his A. B. degree from Princeton in 1926 and later attended the American Institute of Banking, Columbia University and the New York School of Social Work. He has had many years of experience in community organization, public relations and fund raising campaigns.

For two years Mr. Smythe was an Assistant Director of the Greater New York Fund, the largest fund raising organization in New York City. In May 1941 he became Director of Roll Call and Fund Raising for the Brooklyn (N. Y.) Red Cross Chapter, during which time the chapter raised over $1,000,000 and greatly expanded its services to the community.

In addition to his fund raising activities Mr. Smythe organized a Blood Donor enrollment program for the chapter. Red Cross volunteers went into industries, business organizations, clubs and fraternal groups to enroll blood donors. The response to these appeals more than filled the chapter's quota and resulted in a waiting list of donors.

When wool, rayon, and cotton shortages assumed serious proportions, Mr. Smythe established a Clothing Scrap Conservation program for the chapter whereby department stores, retailers and clothing manufacturers donated remnants for re-channeling to mills. This program is now used as a model for many Red Cross chapters engaged in scrap conservation.

Take Steps To Relieve Sellersville Flood Menace

SELLERSVILLE, Sept. 9—Immediate steps to help relieve Sellersville flood conditions were taken at a meeting of the Sellersville borough council.

The borough will change the flow of water leading into the small stream parallel to the trolley tracks where most of the flood damage occurs. The water will then lead directly into Lenape Creek.

Borough officials together with state engineers studied the problem and decided this will control the damage resulting from the overflow of this small stream.

Council also studied the plan of limiting Walnut street to one-way motor traffic. Traffic on Walnut will be eastbound only while traffic on Temple will be both ways. Donaldneeding your "Don't Wants."

C. Stackpole, district highway engineer, has approved the banning of parking on the west side of Main street. Cars can park on the east side only.

The Board of Health has proposed the installation of a sewer line on Noble street where no such provisions are made. The estimated cost is $3,300. No definite action was taken. The borough has also decided to rent an air compressor from the Evans Machinery and Equipment Company, Philadelphia. This will be used mainly for street construction. The accounts as of September 1 are as follows: general account, $6,310; water account, $6,318; sewer account, $7,118; Sinking Fund No. 1, $21,364; Sinking Fund No. 2, $1,487.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes a lot of planning to hit a target . . . even more to achieve a goal

There are two kinds of young men. One knows what he wants to do and goes after it. The other is still looking for his niche. The new Regular Army can help both of them.

Suppose, for example, that you're the first kind. You want to go to college but don't have the money. If you enlist in the new Regular Army, you'll have a chance to earn while you learn. Honorably discharged at the end of a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The U. S. Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, and you'll get $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

Or maybe you're the man who hasn't found his spot. An enlistment in the Army will put you in touch with the widest selection of jobs. Army schools offer special training in over 200 trades and skills. When you leave the service you can continue your training at the school best equipped to help you.

Set your sights! Enlist in the new Regular Army. You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist, within 30 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. GI Bill of Rights benefits assured for men who enlist on or before October 5, 1946.
8. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

Late Summer Wedding Is Saturday Event at Croydon

CROYDON, Sept. 9—A late summer wedding was solemnized on Saturday at one p. m. in St. Thomas Aquinas R. C. Church when Miss Madeline Catherine Stutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stutz, of Croydon, became the bride of Mr. Christopher Weber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Weber, of Bristol. The Rev. Fr. Rogers officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Elizabeth Tryon, organist, played "Ave Maria."

Mr. Stutz gave his daughter in marriage. Miss Regina Stutz, sister of the bride, was her one attendant. She was gowned in a dress of poudre blue net over taffeta. The bodice was trimmed in soutache braid. The dress was styled with short sleeves and V-neckline. A blue net head-dress and silver slippers completed her attire. She carried a bouquet of yellow tea roses.

Mr. Weber's attendant was Mr. Nicholas Mislán, of Morrisville.

The bride's gown was of net over satin, it being cut with a V-neckline and short sleeves. The bodice was trimmed in white soutache braid. She wore a finger-tip veil which was held by a beaded tiara. Lace mitts and white kid slippers completed her costume. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses.

Mrs. Stutz, mother of the bride, wore a street dress of navy blue crepe. She wore a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Weber was attired in a black suit with red rosebud corsage.

A reception was held for the immediate family at the Stutz home following the ceremony.

The couple will spend their honeymoon at Atlantic City, N. J. Mrs. Weber's traveling costume consists of a green gabardine suit, brown felt hat, lizard bag and slippers.

The couple will reside at Bristol Terrace II.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. J. H. Queen
Pastor
Bethel A. M. E. Church, Bristol

Eternal God our Father we pray for the church. Its place in life is challenged by bold forces of sin. Its leadership in the world is questioned by pretensions of unbelief. Forgive us if we have contributed to its peril by indifference or carelessness. Make today the turning point whereon fresh faith and determined support is reborn. May they stream through its radiance thy redeeming love. May it shine forth as the morning in new hope for this distraught world through Jesus. Amen.

That's the most sincere advice we can give you. While waiting for that new Dodge or Plymouth, don't let your present car "run down" when it's so easy to get

DOUBLE PROTECTION

Double Protection means: (1) Driving economy and safety for yourself and family, and (2) preservation of your car's cash value.

Let us check your motor and tune it up if necessary—examine your electrical and cooling systems, check brakes and tires. We have the manpower for quick, reliable service now. Drive in.
